DON'T NEGLECT KIDNEYS

Swamp-Root, Dr. Kilmer's Prescription, Overcomes Kidney Trouble.

It is now conceded by physicians that the kidneys should have more attention as they control the other organs to a remarkable degree and do a tremendous amount of work in removing the poisons and waste matter from the system by filtering the blood.

The kidneys should receive some assistance when needed. We take less exercise, drink less water and often eat more rich, heavy food, thereby forcing the kidneys to do more work than nature intended. Evidence of kidney trouble, such as lame back, annoying bladder troubles, smarting or burning, brickdust or sediment, sallow complexion, rheumatism, maybe weak or irregular heart action, warns you that your kidneys require help immediately to avoid more serious trouble.

An ideal herbal compound that has had most remarkable success as a kidney and bladder remedy is Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root. There is nothing else like it. It is Dr. Kilmer's prescription used in private practice and it is sure to benefit you. Get a bottle from your druggist.

However, if you wish first to test this great preparation send ten cents to Dr. Kilmer & Co., Binghamton, N. Y., for a sample bottle. When writing be sure and mention the Clarksburg Daily Telegram.—Advertisement.

Taking up the cost of the workmen's compensation departments of the several states he showed that in Oregon it was seven per cent of the gross premiums collected; Washington, nine per cent; Ohio, eight per cent; California, twelve, while in West Virginia it was less than five percent. The West Virginia rate was declared to be the lowest of any state and denial was denied.

The Democratic candidate was accused of persistently and maliciously misrepresenting the present governor and his administration. "Every one of the falsehoods have been proved false," said Governor Hatfield, "yet this man asks you to elect him to an honorable position through deception and misrepresentation, playing the same political perfidy that he attempted in his former campaign."

Reference was made to a meeting with Mr. Cornwell in the latter's campaign, during which the Democratic nominee with offering Hatfield inducements to support him, Cornwell, for governor.

"He offered to continue my connections with the West Virginia Miners' hospital at Welch if I would be good," said Governor Hatfield. "It was in that campaign that he sent for me to see him professionally at General Rucker's home, no Democratic doctor in that section being good enough to administer to the ill he was complaining of at that time. I looked him over. I found his pulse and temperature normal. The only signs of symptoms of disease was elicited by his glib tongue which held out promises to me of political preference in case I would be a party to crucifying the nominee of my own party."

"If he was suffering from any disease it was gubernatorial mania of the stagnation type."

upon the statute books by his party during its twenty-five years of state control."

The governor declared that the word "extravagance" had become a creed with Democracy, but when its candidate for governor was called by the man he was attacking and challenged to a joint debate the Democratic nominee sought shelter and backed down a la Wilson.

"I now challenge him to point to anyone of the numerous offices he would abolish if elected governor, and not make some evasive, false or senseless statement that can't be sustained by the record, as in the case
